Home Hardening

If you are planning any exterior structure renovations, consider hardening your home with materials that have greater fire resistive characteristics.

Visit Readyforwildfire.org for Home Hardening Tips.

Defensible Space

Defensible Space Zones

- Zone 0: 0 to 5-feet
- Zone 1: 5 to 30-feet
- Zone 2: 30 to 100-feet

Or up to your property line, which ever comes first.

Zone 0 Ember-Resistant Zone

Zone 0 extends 0 to 5-feet from your home, focusing on intense fuel reduction to protect against ember attacks.

Zone 1 Lean, Clean, and Green Zone

Zone 1 extends 5 to 30-feet from your home.

Zone 1 is where spacing of vegetation and removal of dead or dying plants is critical.

Zone 2 Reduce Fuel Zone

Zone 2 extends 30 to 100feet from your home. Or up to your property line, which ever comes first.

This is where fuel reduction is critical – trimming grass, ladder fuels, fuel continuity, and having clearance around wood piles.

Ladder Fuels and Continuity

Plant Spacing

Proper spacing between grass, shrubs, and trees is key in slowing wildfire spread. This spacing varies based on vegetation type, size, and land slope – larger plants on steeper slopes require more space than smaller vegetation on flat areas.

Create a Wildfire Action Plan

A plan that includes:

- A designated emergency meeting area
- Identification of several different escape routes (if possible)
- Evacuation plan for pets and livestock
- A family communication plan (Where to meet, Out-Of-Area emergency contact, other important numbers, and evacuation routes).

The Wildfire Action Plan is should be prepared and familiar to all members of your household well in advance of a wildfire.

The 6 P's of Evacuation

- People & pets
- Papers, phone numbers & important documents
- Prescriptions, vitamins & eyeglasses
- Pictures & irreplaceable memorabilia
- Personal computer, hard drive & disks
- "Plastic" (credit cards, ATM cards) & cash
